ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The faculty of law conducts various educational and scientific projects aimed at students and young researchers. The latest projects include training of school mediators, protection of human rights in the system of Russian education and the conflict resolution studies. The school mediation project has been supported by the Russian Foundation for Humanities. Its results have been presented during several conferences and other scholarly events, such as "Criminal justice: connection of times" (October, 2010), "The modern world: unity and diversity" (April 2010), "The law on alternative dispute resolution process with a mediator: problems and prospects" (May 2011). All the projects are open for cooperation to ensure their multidisciplinary and usefulness for contemporary society.
